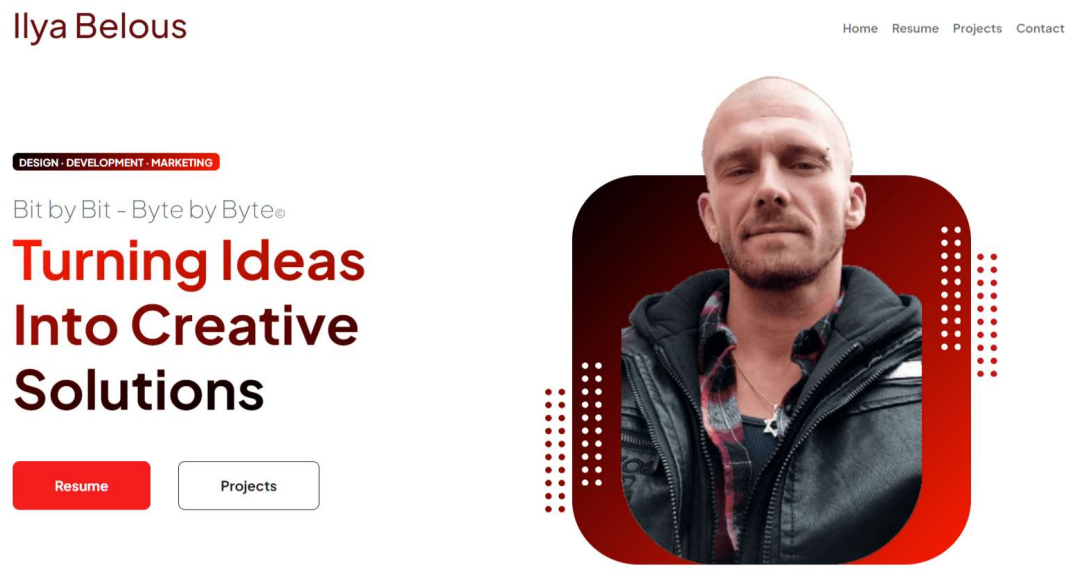
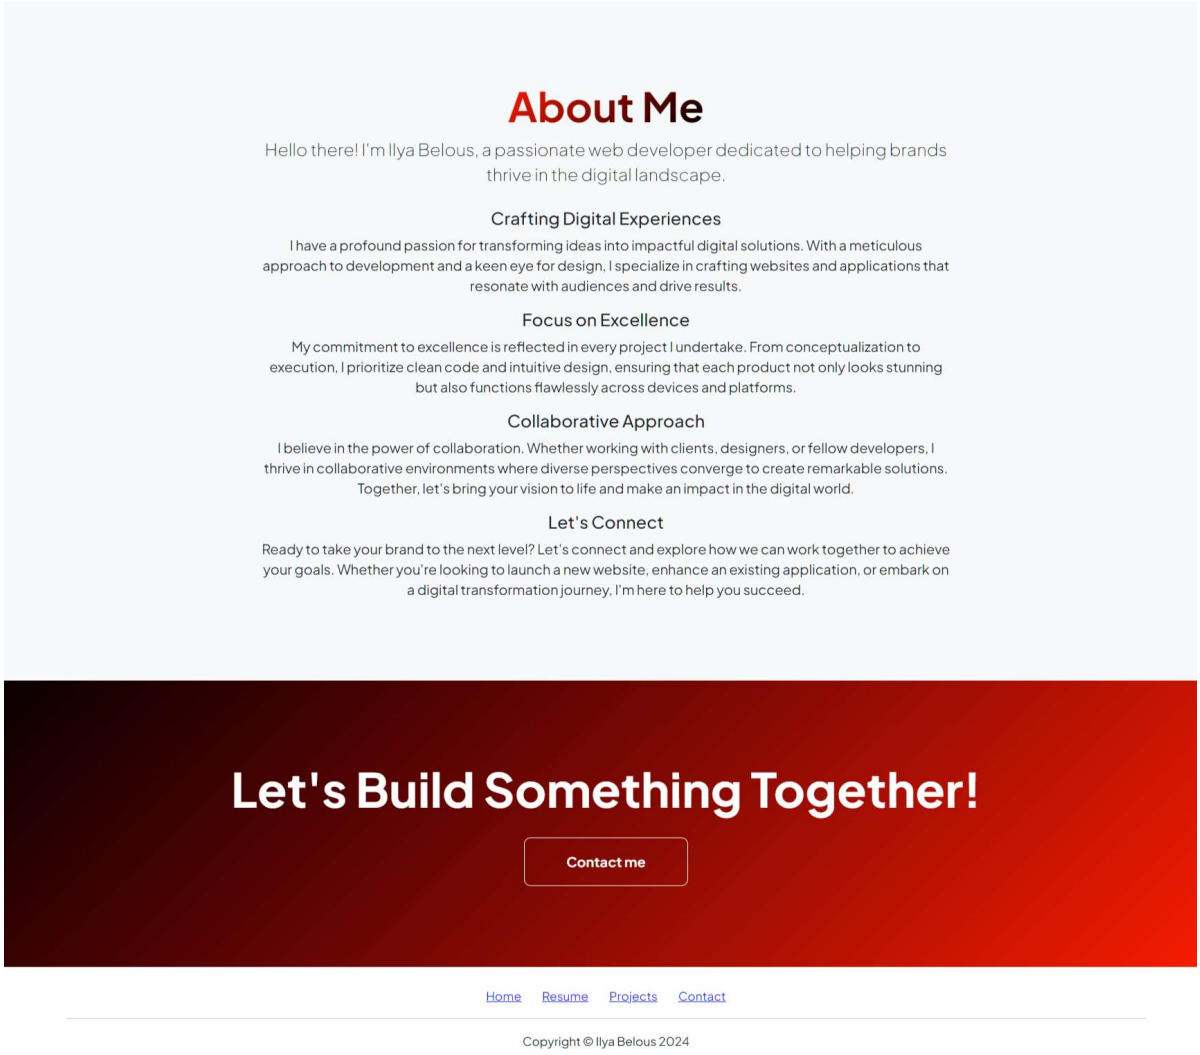
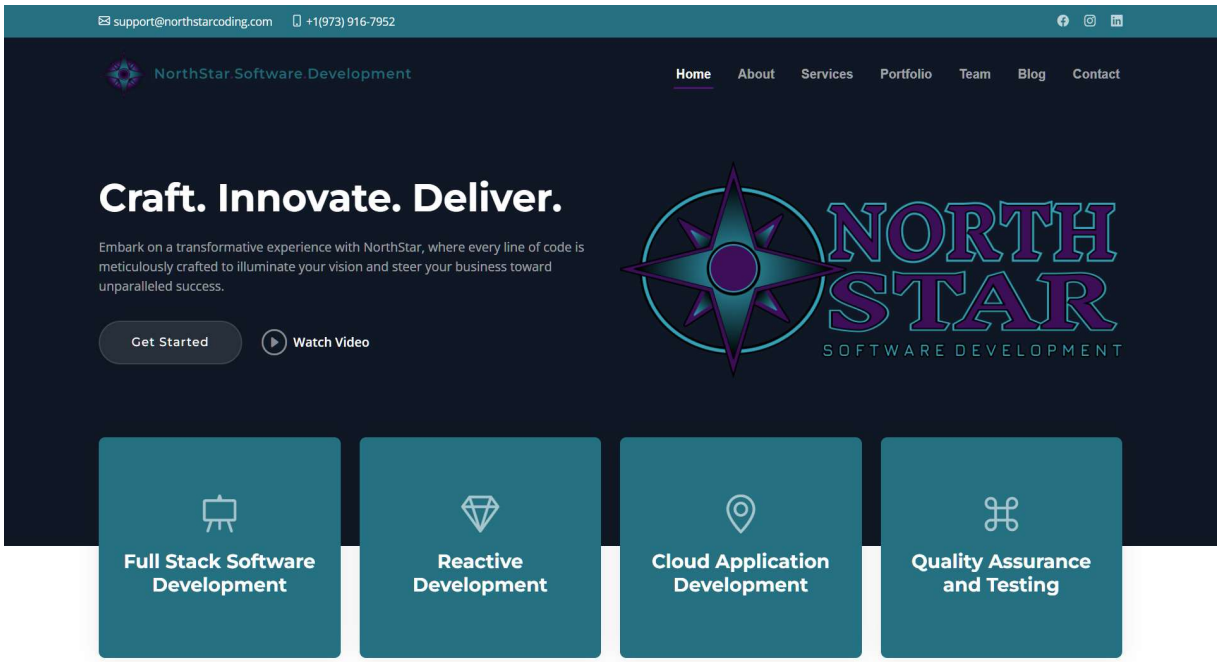
This project was designed to showcase my personal portfolio, focusing on a modern layout with responsive design and smooth animations. The design is professional and optimized for both mobile and desktop platforms, incorporating a clean interface for visitors to connect with me easily.







This project focused on developing a high-converting landing page for NorthStar Software Development. It included full-stack software services, advanced development sections, and a clean, professional layout aimed at showcasing their offerings. The design features animations and responsive design, making it functional across devices.
